LEADING LADY WANTED.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. BY PRESLEY B. FRENCH.

"A leading lady wanted who can do a song and I noticed in a late dramatic paper.

Forsooth! Is it not a pretty caper That managers should ask us to make way for Talented leading women that can also go in pants?
What a shame!

Methinks who is this fellow that's in search of such a freak? Mayhap they have those things out on his prairies;

Mayhap 'tis he "discovers" all the fairies That about a fortnight's time at home she tarries Then comes to New York City at £1,000 a week Without a name

Now, if he's such a genius, and can do this for his leads,

I see no well authenticated reason Why I should not to my good intents prove treason, And "jine out" with him for a Summer season— Go out West, where no one knows me, and, at least. get regular "feeds," Three a day.

I penned a lengthy letter to this man in Iowa. I did not even read the missive o'er. See? So afraid that some one else might be before me I mailed it. To myself I thought most surely Will I get a message, saying: "We send money, start today.

Don't delay."

For I told him, oh, so truly! of the emotional parts I'd tried.

Of the hundred leading parts I had created. Always held my houses spell bound (so I prated) His anxiety I felt certain I had sated. When I spoke of female leads in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr.

alarmed at my rough appearance, but I told him wasn't half so tough as I looked, and if he'd come out of his hole we would run the shop on shares. thought I had made a big strike, but after I had sail round a "halluf an hour"—notice my accent—l found something seemed to drive trade away, so I sold out my interest for twenty-five cents and two cigars, and started once more to beat the town On the Bowery I struck a restaurant, but not near as hard as the boss struck me. I asked for pie, and got a stone or a brack, it mattereth not which. After I recovered I moved on, not rapidly, for I was lamed a bit, but just enough to get away from the scene of strife. I am a peaceable man, and I would go a long ways to avoid a brick.

Saturday mat. I did "Miss Multon," at night I tried counter and cried out: "So help me gracious, take the whole shop, Mr. Tramp." He was evidently but, after shaking me well, a policeman grabbed and drove him away. I asked him why I asked him why ed, but he said a tramp should be "well shaken before taken." This pleased him so that he sat down and laughed, and I broke away and disappeared from sight. That is from his sight, but I was so sore I couldn't run away from myself, and I wandered back to the office and cleaned up and bound up my wounds. After taking an inventor of stock and changing my clothes, I went out, got a square meal and thought over the events of the morn. I felt that I did not begin right—the rich have no sympathy for the poor—another beer, should have gone at once among the poor. The could feel for a fellow creature in distress, and in

PLAYING TRAMP.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. BY C. H. FOWLE.

I am a reporter on a daily paper in this city, and re cently, in one of our exchanges from Boston, I read an account of how one of their reporters disguised himself as a "bum," and endeavored there-by to learn just how much wages a good all 'round beggar could pick up in a day. After various ex-periences he found his assets for one day's tramp-ing to be eleven cents, a piece of bread and a cold bite—from a dog. This in cultured Boston. Now, I never intend that Boston shall down us on anything, and I knew that New York would respond liberally to distress. She always puts her hand in her pocket when appealed to—as witness the Grant monument fund-and sometimes she fails to pull it monument fund—and sometimes she fails to pull it out again. But let me tell you my experiences. Well, one bright morning in August I left our office by a side doorway, heavily and laboriously disguised—partly in liquor, but not so much as later As a bum the bum's description faileth me but if my natural self could have met my tramp self I think he would have run, and it takes two policemen and a writ to make me run generally

Well, I started in not far from Chatham Square, and entered an old clo' shop with my story all ready to fire at the proprietor about a wife and six she stepped one side, said: "Sic 'em Tige!" and small children without a vest to their name, when, as I entered, the storekeeper darted under the steps, but the dog wasn't a lap behind. I thought

I started: "Listen to my tale of woe," something hit me in the stomach, and I sat down. The bread was so hard I was glad I had it on the outside of my stomach, and not inside; but I did not like the way I received it, and, picking myself up, I left the state of woe to another time thought I would save my money, so I went in, called for beer, grabbed a handful of lunch and was just going to grab the beer when it disappeared from sight, and in its place a little sign shot up which said the simple dry goods word: "Cash." it's a new trick to me, and I was so pleased I hauled out my money and set 'em up for the crowd—that is, the proprietor and myself. After spending a short time in riotous living, and squandering the entire quarter. I left for new scenes of slaughter. thought I would try working the house racket, so I started for the residence section, and soon found myself on Lexington Avenue. The first door bell I pulled brought a trim looking maid to the door, and face. The same was repeated at eight or ten houses

The girl who opened the door heard my plaint-ive yarn about the starving family, smiled sweet-ly, and said: "You poor man! So you haven't

The next place I entered was a bake shop, and as | the tenement region and the crowded districts should get a loaf of food, handfuls of small coin and very weary and passe. Instead of Lexington Avenu I should have struck Avenue A and the East side so after—another beer—I finish my dinner I wil try again. Just then Wiggs, who does the police courts, came in and we had another bee courts, came in and we had another bee and then a little whiskey to take the tast out of our mouths, and another beer to take the smell away, and then a little brandy to warm us for it's going to be a hard Winter. the street, I found I had taken Wiggs' hat by mis take, so I went back, and that was beer on me, and one on Wiggs because he got his hat back. And then when I got to the office the only thing that needed disguising was my breath; but I got into my rags somehow, after trying to wear the

I can't say I struck a bee line, because I had no wings; but I was very fly, and had almost made up my mind not to take less than a dol lar from any one person when I arrived at the scene of conflict. After a beer to brace me up, I scree of commer. After a beer to orace me up, I started in. I climbed a ricketty flight, pounded on the door, and a big woman opened it, gave me one look, and then belted me over the head with a mop. I slid down the stairs, and landed in a heap on the sidewalk. After a moment I concluded I had struck the wrong house, and tried next door. Here

I had a warm reception; if the water had only had a little more time to get ready it would have scalded my hide off, but, of course, it didn't know I was coming, and did the best it could under the circumstances. Hang the man that invented hot water! I'll always take my drinks cold after this. I don't know what I said to provoke it all, but, after the hot bath, I said several things which I am anxious and willing to be forgiven for. No paper would willingly print them, even as advertisements. However, a little thing like that could not dampen my ardor, and I tried again. A neat abode, where evidently respectable again. A neat abode, where evidently respectable poor people lived, was the next place. I rapped; the door was opened, and I began: "I've got five beer—no, I mean five small wives, at home." "You horrid man!" cried the woman; bang went the door, and I knew by that that I was declined with thanks. The next six houses I couldn't get any one to open the door. They only sat in the window, and said: "Go to!" So I go toed. Then I entered a tenement house, got up one flight, and the inhabitants fell on me en masse—this is French for "in a gang"—and clubbed and pounded and kicked and pulled me till I rolled down stairs, and was swept out to the sidewalk in a dazed and damaged condition. Then two or three dogs came out and picked out a choice bit, and carried it off. A police-man clubbed the soles of my feet to prevent a rush of brains to the head, and, after procuring a vegetable cart I was dumped in and taken to the station house, and from there to the hospital.

I have been here a week now, but expect to get out before snow files, and then I intend to take a trip to Boston, if I can borrow a gun, and lay for that re-porter who got so little for his day's tramping. I got enough to last me six months. Not so much actual cash, but a sheel of a lot of experience, and i didn't open my head but once or twice all day. People seemed to be all loaded for me before I rang the bell. Next time I go begging I shall wear a coat of mail and carry a gun, a slung shot and some brass knuckles, and do all my talking through the telephone. I haven't got the iron gaul of a Boston reporter, but I'll have his scalp some day.

Once again by Fancy willed. Sweet brown eyes with love light filled, Shyly look up into mine— My first sweetheart, they are thine And my world-worn heart is thrilled By the remembrance divine Once again by Fancy willed.

Once again by Fancy willed; How my shriveled heart is thrilled Creeps a little hand in mine Clinging like a cypress vine I am old and bald and grilled But my blood grows hot as wine Once again by Fancy willed.

Once again by Fancy willed, All my senses are be rilled As I feel her clinging there And I fling away all care Sip the perfumed air distilled-As I stoop to kiss her hair Once again by Fancy willed.

L'ENVOL Sweet the memories instilled In old age of youth's delight We can kiss sweethearts good night, Once again by Fancy willed. HAMILTON GIBSON.

SOME NEW PLAYS.

Charles Arnold's "Hans the Boatman

Seen for the First Time Here.
The first performance of "Hans the Boatman" in this country was given at McVicker's Theatre, Chimonds & Brown, the dramatic agents. This per formance also marked the stellar debut in this country of Charles Arnold. "Hans the Boatman" is a three act musical comedy, by Clay M. Greene and was written especially for Mr. Arnold. Its ini and was written especially for Mr. Arnold. Its initial presentation was at the Theatre Royal. Sheffield, Eng. March 7, 1887. On July 4, the same year, it received its first London production, at the Grand Theatre, Islington. In April, 1888, Mr. Arnold sailed from England to the Antipodes, and toured Australia and New Zealand for ten months. under Boucleault & Brough's management. He reappeared at Sydney, Aus., April 15, 1889, and produced the piece there, under the management of Musgrove, Garner & Williamson. On May 10, he sailed for England, thence to this country. The curtain rises on a pretty scene—a cottage by a lake in the Adirondack Mountains. Yank Thursby is the owner of the cottage, and he gains a livelihood by rowing the visitors who stay at Shroon during the season. The other inhabitants of the cottage archis daughter, a dark eyed, sprighly girl, unedu-ucated, and pert in manner, yet, withal, of honest heart and true affection, and Hans, the hero of the story, a German-Swiss, youth, handsome, simple hearted, but full of poetry, and of an easy going romante turn of mind. The girl, strangely enough, is "Thomas Jefferson Thursby." familiarly styled "Jeffe." and her father explains that she was named affert he second President et be United States. Things didn't turn out just as was aspected, but he named her, alt the same, and would have done it had she been born twins. Jeffe is footily all babion, and as she declares, "the love of a brother ain't worth a shilling a shipload when you want a lover." The first striking incident is the return from the picnic, to which Hans has been with a boatful of children. The boat draws up to the edge of the lake in the most realistic fashion, and some dozen youngsters of varied age, a magnificent dog and Hans disembark, and sing." This new comedy, by Col. Milliken, the well known journalist and dramatist, which was tested at the Madison Square Theatre, this city, afternoon of Sept. 4, has its foundation in French, although it is not what might; strictly, be called an adaptation. Col. Milliken lived in Paris for a long time, where he made a study of dramatic work, and is a profound admirer of the ability of the authors of that country, and of the construction of their plays. Augustus Bennett is the son of a wealthy ship owner on the lakes, whose ambilion was that his son should be the commander of a first class ocean steamer. He receives a proper education, and, when he becomes of ago, his father secures him the command of a fine vessel sailing from New York. Untoftunately Augustus would get seasick, and all medicine proves unavailing. He there we his commission, and proves unavailing. He there we his commission, and represent the sailing from New York. Mrs. Samson, an elderly lady with plenty of money and a marriageable daughter, was struck with the title, and secured an introduction to the sapitain(?). He commenced teiling yarns about his ship-wroke. At the eleventh, they were deeply interested, and at the seventeeth he married Matilda. He had lied so much that he was salammed to acknowledge it, so he kept up his voyages. About every six months he would start away, but really only get as far as New York City, where he had made the acquaintance of a pretty young some shade to be acquaintance of a pretty young shous, he would take. When he would return to his hous, he would take here, and have his stories to fit them. When he came back to New York, he would play the same game. The story opens after he had been married three years, and is expecting his "asiling orders" (which he had arranged with a friend to send him). The servant girl, in dusting the room, knock down a stuffed owl, which he had shot during his last crules to the Black Sea. Mrs. Samson childes the servant and picks up the owl. In arranging the tail feathers she discovers a price card of Macy's, and her suspleions are aroused, so, when the Captain's both the head of the play. The scene is in France. The time, present. The story is of a young girl. Hortense D'Arblay, who is onliged to choose between submitting to a hateful marriage and an elopement with the man she loves. She adopts the latter plan, but her lover, Raymond, has been carried off to Algiers as a prisoner by his rival. La Saile, and she is obliged to return alone to meet her angread and outraged family. The news of her disgrace is spread abroad, and she is soon compelled to marry a man whom she does not love, but whose name will restore her former prestige. Her husband dies, leaving her the guardian-distinct of the secondary of the secon

"The Ragpicker's Child."

The above drama, by Justin Adams, was pre-sented for the first time at the Opera House, Lebanon, reduced from a position of trust in the counting house of his wealthy brother, Humphrey, to the necessity of picking rags for a living. However, he turns necessity to advantage, and manages to find many a secret in the rubbish gathered from the back doors of the wealthy. He is aided in this by Little Jack, a child placed in his charge by Mother Shin, another ragpicker. This child, in sorting rags, accidentally fluds a piece of paper, blank on one side, but with the signature of Josiah Watson, a wealthy banker, on the other. This piece of paper Baxter and his confederate, Aaron Frankenstien, a Jew, make use of to ruin Harry Bell, Watson's nephew. They induce him to write his promissory note on the other side, the signature, unseen by him, serving as an endorsement. To make matters more to their advantage, he is also induced to date the note back several weeks. When if fails due, they present it to Josiah Watson, who disclaims all knowledge of the endorsement, charges his nephew with forgery and turns him out of doors. Baxter, in the meantime, having gone to Watson's house to see about the note, discovers his brother there as a guest. The brother accuses him of having stolen his child twelve years before. He admits that he had Mother Shinn steal it, to satisfy a gradige. He returns it (Little Jack), with the information that he has beaten, starved and abused it he child whom he had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy his own—a little girl whom she had dressed as a boy house of his wealthy brother, Humphrey, to the ne-cessity of picking rags for a living. —Charles T. Adams, the German comedian, met with considerable success at the Pavilion, this city, last week, with Mackley & McGride's "The Blacksmith's Vow" Co. Mr. Adams has not yet signed for the Fall and Winter, although he has had several offers. Being one of the old school of actors, he should not have much trouble in placing himself well. Aside from his German specialty, he is a good straight comedian. His recent liness has entirely left nim, and he claims that he is again himself.

is a good straight comedian. His recent liness has entirely left him, and he claims that he is again himself.

— Marie Heath, the clever little soubrette, will probably go with Dan Dalys' "Upside Down" Co. this season, although J. C. Stewart and E. D. Stair want her. Miss Heath still has hopes of going out in her own play before January next. Whether her wish will be granted or not, it is doubtful at present to say. The gentleman who was to have backed Miss Heath has failed to come to time, but she is not discouraged. Her play, "The Little General," is by Mrs. C. A. Doremus."

— Lewis Morrison's 'Faust'' Co. began its tour at the Amphion Academy of Music, williamsburg, N. Y., Sept. 9, with new scenery, new costumes and new mechanical and electric effects. Mr. Morrison promises a grander spectacle this season than last, and feels confident that the tour will prove eminently successful.

— Rose Ridgway, of the "Antiope" Co., at Niblo's Garden, this city, lately imported a pair of English shoes through the mail. They were selzed as dutiable articles and she was informed that she could have her shoes by paying $1 duty. Miss Ridgway appeared at the Custom House Sept. 5, and maintained successfully that the shoes were "implements of her profession," and as such were not dutiable.

— Robert C. Hilliard has been engaged to appear in "Mr. Barnes of New York" until B. R. Graham appears to claim his part.

— Dore Davidson's juvenite man rehearsed with him in "Guilty Without Crime" until the last no ment, and then sent word that he was too ill to play. Sydney Bowkett took the part, telling Mr. Davidson that he would keep it until he opened with Mrs. Potter. So the indications are that Mr. Bowkett will keep it all season, for Mrs. Potter does not goout.

Sam Lang, of Lang and Sharpe, writes us a strong letter, requesting us to urge the Elks and the professional friends of W. J. Conway to exert themselves in his behalf. Mr. Conway to exert themselves in his behalf. Mr. Conway is at present in the Stockton, Cal. Insane Asylum, with no prospects of ever recovering his right senses. Mr. Lang thinks that if Mr. Conway was placed in a private asylum, where he could receive proper care and attention, he would soon be himself again, and he hopes the Elks will do something for a brother of that noble order.

Harry W. Barron and Thomas C. Ardell have joined hands, and will be known as Barton and Ardell. They intend to visit California later in the season. Mr. Sarton has also invented a new musical novelty, and they will introduce it in their new specialty the coming season.

When Primrose & West's Model Minstrels open their season, Sept. 12, at Taylor's Opera House, Trenton, N. J., a number of novelties will be presented. The Crystal Palace first part, with the troupe in rich and picturesque "Monte Cristo" costumes, will, it is said, be most effective. George H. Primrose and Bob Slavin, the Big Four and Powers and Le Mack are among the comedians. Raymond Moore (tenor), Fred J. Oakland, T. B. Dixon and Fox Samuels are prominent among the vocalists. European specialists will appear, and Barney Fagan will produce two picturesque acts. Prof. James Carpenter directs the orenestra. Manager Primrose was in town last week, completing the preliminaries.

Morris Cronin, club swinger, recently closed a nine weeks' engagement with the Berry Bros. Co. He will hereafter play dates.

John Mayon, of Pickert and Mayon, recently presented Harry Blake with two sketches in oil.

Big business is reported from the Donnelly & Mcavoy Winstrels. Larry McAvoy was recently presented with a valuable canine. Mr. Burns and P. J. Riley joined the troupe at North Adams, Mass.

Avoy Minstrels. Larry McAvoy was recently presented with a valuable canine. Mr. Burns and P. J. Riley Joined the troupe at North Adams, Mass. LEONA DE FORKEST, male impersonator, and Lee Mitchell, female impersonator have joined hands. They will play their original sketch. "Rehearsal."

HARDING AND AH SID are negotiating to go to Europe in October.

ROSELLE, the well known female impersonater, has been playing in St. Louis, Mo., for several weeks past, and is not to be confounded with another party claiming that name, and who recently appeared in a beal light for thieving, etc. The last named is not the Roselle known to the vaudeville stage for many years.

JAMES DEVINE has withdrawn from the team o. Devine and Monroe. He will hereafter do sketches with his wife.

JAMES DEVINE has withdrawn from the team o. Devine and Monroe. He will hereafter do sketches with his wife.

GUS H. SAVILLE, of Bryant and Saville, managed Bowker's Pavinion, Atlantic City, N. J., for the Summer. He was presented with a gold headed cane at the closing of the season, Aug. 31. Mr. and Mrs. Bowker were the donors. Wm. Mitchell, of Mitchell and Loraine, made the presentation. Bryant and Saville joined the Rose Hill Co. Sept. 2. AGNES EVANS made her debut in the vaudevilles Sept. 2, at Waldmann's Theatre, Newark, N. J., with the Howard Big Burlesque Co. She was 3 pronounced success, and is a valuable addition to the burlesque contingency of the variety stage. She was for several seasons with the Evans and Hoey Co.

BILLY McIntyre, recently at the Grand Central Theatre, Louisville, Ky., is not to be confounded with Billie McIntyre, of McIntyre and Rice, and is not related to either McIntyre and Heath, or McIntyre and Rice.

LITTLE HAZEL LA TROCAS has been very ill at Elmira, N. Y., with typhoid fever. She is recovering slowly, and, if she has no relapse, will soon be able to resume work.

HAREY FOWERS, the minstrel tenor, writes of his success with a comedy troupe.

Manager T. E. Miaco is much pleased over the opening success of the Howard Big Burlesque Co.'s. He thinks his show much shead of tast season, and when he gets it down to his satisfaction he will have a most attractive entertainment. His ideas are liberal, his troupe is well booked, and, with the show he has, the season should prove nighty renumeration.

GEYER AND LORD, Petrie and Elise, and Emma Lee have signed with Irwin Bros.' Specialty Show.

MAJOR BURK has concluded negotiations with a well known variety manager, who shortly expects to put a strong vaudeville show on the road. Although it is not definitely decided to put this company out, the gentleman took time by the forelock and secured Major Burk to manage it. Mr. Burk was a CLIPPER caller Sept. 7, and during the course of his conversation he described a new sketch he has. The story is quite interesting, and gives ample opportunity to display specialities. It is on the military order and introduces a sword combat. Should the above mentioned manager decide not to send the company out. Major Burk will put his sketch on in the variety houses. This week he is at Forepaugh's Theatre, Baltimore, Md., with a minstrel company under Frank Moran's direction.

NOTES FROM AL. G. FIELD'S MINSTERIES.—The weather has been exceedingly warm, and has injured our business considerably. At Jamestown, N. Y. Sept. 4 on account of the railroad company falling to get our baggage through on time, we did not give an exhibition. The advance sales were large, and the indications pointed to a good house. Twelve pieces of our baggage, containing all the wardtobe, properties, etc., were put off the train by mistake somewhere between Wairen. O., and Jamestown, N. Y. They did not arrive at Jamestown until 11 o'clock that night. We have had lots of sickness in the company resulting from the terrible beat. Billy Van has resumed work although not well. Lawrence Diamond is still on the sick list. Mrs. Al. G. Field has been sick for some time, but its a little better, and we hope she will pull through all right.

A. B. STEWART paid us a call on his return from three months' stay in Paris, Fr. With the crowded condition of the Exposition City all classes of amusement are reaping a harvest, and Buffalo Bill and his Wild West, although outside of the walls are meeting with success. All are in good health but anxious to return to America. The great hip podrome is giving two performances a day, and podrome is giving two performances a day, and, although they have not changed their programme in five months, turn people away every night. Caicedo, the wire walker, and the pantomime are the features billed. The Paris Hippodrome gives twenty single acts; Barnum over sixty. Among the performers in Paris and well known here were: The Loyals, the Eltons, the Rolands, the O'Briens and Katanoshin. Barnum's trip to London'is all the talk in Paris. the O'Briens and Katanoshin. Barnum's trip to London' is all the talk in Paris. Frank Melvine' is now touring Germany, having recently closed in Paris.

Tidisos from the Barnum & Bailey accident were erroneous. The bare facts are as follow: Spr. ading rails on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway caused an axle under one of the stock cars to break after bumping over ties for a quarter of a mile. This threw the car and four others from the track, telescoping two of the cars containing horses. But very few were killed, and of those injured fourteen were able to rejoin the Show last week. The rest will follow this week. The performing stallion Mrs. Forepaugh rides was not even scratched, much less killed, as reported. He kicked himself out of the car, and was standing looking on when the men in charge of the train arrived at the scene of wreck. The horses injured and killed were at once replaced, and the performance has been given the same immense satisfaction as of old. Business in the Dominion has been the largest the show has ever known and at Toronto the largest the show has ever known and at Toronto. Mrs. H. D. Hagar, whom thousands will remember as Jennie Morgan, one of the sweetest of song birds, has been visiting her husband for two weeks past. She is accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Newcomer, of Wauseon, O. Both ladies have watched with interest the manufacture of "strawberry" lemonade, and been initiated in many of the commercial secrets of the "Greatest Show on Earth." They return to Wauseon in a few days, where "Col." Hagar owns one of the best stock farms in the State. Baseball now holds the reins in the dressing room. Matches are of daily occurrences, and the playing often wild and wonderfoil. In the classic diction of the diamond. Monday before last in Toronto, Coleman hit a swipe to centre that disturbed the cerulean blueness overhead and started on a tour of aerial navigation. Crossley, the runner, started to give it a warm hand reception when it had decided to return to the breast of mother

PRESS AGENT FRANK L. PERLEY, of the Barnum & Bailey Circus, arrived in this city hast week. He will still for London Sept. 1s to prepare the English public, through their conservative newspapers, for the advent of the big show. If Mr. Perley doesn't do some new things in advance press work, we shall be very much mistaken. His recent trip with the circus brought forth excellent results. Mrs. Perley (Ma Glenn) and Master Perley will remain in this city, the former having been engaged for the run of "The Great Metropolis."

P. T. Turner again the resident manager, with no important changes in the staff of attaches, ..... The theatres at which there was a continuance of the preceeding week's bill were: The BROADWAY, with "The Oolah," PALMER'S, with "Clover," by the McCaull Co.; the FIFTH AVENUE, with J. C. Duff's "Paola" Co.; the Casino, with "The Brigands;" the Madison Square, with Kate Clax ton's "Boofles' Baby" Co.; the Lyckum, with E. H. Sothern in "Lord Chumley;" the Bijou, with Herr-mann's Trans-Atlantic Vaudeville Co.; Daly's, mann's Trans-Atlantic Vandeville Co.; Daly's, with Sol Smith Russell in "A Poor Relation;" the FOURTEENTH STREET, with the Tompkins-McKee "Mankind" Co., and Niblo's, with Bolossy Kiralfy's "Antiope" Co. Prof. Herrmann's excellent variety troupe closed a very profitable three weeks' engage troupe closed a very promotor three weeks engage-ment at the Bijon night of 7, and on the same date "Mankind" finished its three weeks at the Four-teenth Street, to less substantial receipts, however. Sylvia Gerrish returned from her vacation to the cast of "The Brigands" at the Casino last week, and that opera is now sung with all its original members. At the Madison Square, Nanits original members. At the Madison Square, Nanette Comstock closed 7, to join the "Shenandoah," Co. 9, at another theatre. Jennie Lothian assumed her role in "Bootles" Baby." Earlier in the week. W. A. Lackaye had also left. Miss Claxtor's forces to join "Shenandoah," and Frederick Kerr had taken his place, Fred Tyler in turn filling the part vacated by Mr. Kerr. Lena Merville's engagement with "The Oolah" closed 7..... The Amberg, Dock. Staders, Starndard, Academy, Union Square, Star, Halla, National, and Metropolitan Operations: Refer W. Bert's "Lost in Africa" Co. at the Winnson, H. M. Williams' "Blue and the Gray" Co. at Jacobs' Third Avenue. "The Streets of New York" at the Harlem Confique and the Redmund-Barry Co., in "Herminie," at the Proflik's..... The Grand Operation of the two weeks booked for it to fairly good houses. It opened at the Grand with a Monday matinee (Labor Day). At might the large thearte was packed to the doors down stairs and top heavy in the tiers. This engagement inaugurated the road tour of "The Still Alarm," and it is easy to predict another season's, though it has received a pleasing addition in Marion Booth, who assumes the part of Elinore Fordham for this engagement only. The exciting episodes of the play met with their usual hearty reception, but the star, Harry Lacy, was handicapped by a distressing hoarseness. This will be the only attraction to play two consecutive weeks this season at the Grand. Appended is the full cast: Jack Manley, Harry Lacy; John Bird (alias Gormon), Byron Douglass; Willie Manley, Chas. Lothian; Doe Wilbur, Joseph Wilkes; Franklin Fordham, E. A. Eberle; Jenkins, T. B. Felter; Jo. Jones, M. J. Gallagher; A. D. Messenger, B. Masters: Nozzle, Benj. Pauline Hall will then return to the Casino forces. Sylvia Gerrish, J. T. Powers, Marie Halton and others will be in the cast. Lillian Russell. MAYOR GRANT vetoed the resolution of the Board of Aldermen, Sept. 5, allowing the erection of an awning over the sidewalk in front of Daly's Theatre. GRAND MUSRUM.—Business last week was all that could be desired, and Manager Fursman is quite jubilant over the prospects of a big season. The bill this week includes Herman (strong man). Capt. Baldwin (armiess wonder). Wm. Wills (ventriloquist), Bal Broma (fire flend), the Grecian beauty and Valentine's illusions in the curio hall. On the stage are Wm. C. Watts, Cook, the comical clown. Leonard and Hart, Louise Clariro, Francia and Delany, and Wesley De Forrest. M. J. O'Neill is no longer connected with the house. Manager Fursman informs us that the will hercafter try light comices and farces on the lower stage, instead of variety. The Chinese continue at the Oriental Theatre, to good business.

man informs us that he will hereafter try light condies and farces on the lower stage, instead of variety. The Chinese continue at the Oriental Theatre, to good business.

Poole's Theatre has been giving Hebrew performances recently. The future of the house is uncertain. Hebrew performances were tried there last season, but did not pay.

THE NATIONAL THEATRE is still closed, with no prospects of an immediate opening.

THERE are no signs of life about the Thalia Theatre. It is current talk that Messrs, Amberg and Kraemer are trying to cover up the break between them, and that Manager Amberg will open the house again for German performances.

NEW PARK THEATRE.—Barry and Fay, in "Mc-Kenna's Flirtation," closed their first week Sept. 7, business being large at all the evening performances. It looks very much as if the new regime was to prove highly successful, and that the present attraction would run remuneratively the entire season. Manager Dunlevy is the right man in the right place, and his keen appreciation of the fitness of things for the comfort of his patrons should easily make his house stand high in public favor. The executive staff is as follows: Wm. M. Dunlevy, manager. Louis S. Goulland, treasurer; Leonard J. Leese, assistant treasurer; John S. Leese, advertising agent; C. Rosenfels, head doorkeener: Emil O. Wolf, musical director; Joseph De La Harpe, scenic artist, and James J. Murray, stage manager. The aftractive smoking room is to be made comfortable with chairs and seats.

"A Poor Relation" is an unmistakable success at Daly's the house being large at each performance. Sol Smith Russell's attractive and artisting personation of the inventor finds hearty indorsement from all. He will close S-yl. 14. The Daly stock open Oct. 2 in a new play.

MRS. ANNEY YEAMANS is back in the city, looking as happy and bright, as usual. Accompanied by her daughters, Jennie and Emily, she is doing the theatres.

The examination took place in one of the rooms of the Supreme Court. Mr. McVicker said that two or three years ago he came to New York to arrange with French & Sanger about plays to be produced at his Chicago theatre, and that Mr. French and sent him to Mr. Sanger, saying he had charge of the details. He had supposed from all he had seen that the two were in partnership. KOSTER & BIAL'S.—"Bandith" was revived Sept. 9 with John W. Ransone and Louise Dempsey in the leading roles. "Monte Cristo Jr." continues to be attractive. The specialities for the current week include the following: The Dares, Housabura Sam who is assisted by Mile. Manne, Earle and Ward, and John Marion. "Faust on Time," a burleaque by Frederic Solomon, will receive its premier 22. "She," with Lester and Allen in the leading parts, will also be done. "The STILL ALARM" is in 118 second week at the JOHN V. O'BRIEN, at one time among the greates of our showmen, died suddenly at his residence East Harrison Street, Frankford, Philadelphia, Sept. 7, from asthma. Mr. O'Brien was the son of a stone mason, Michael O'Brien, was born Jan. 29, 1836, on Main Street, Frankford, and had always made his home there. He started in his threenth year as a driver on a stage line running between Frankford and Philadelphia, and in 1857 bought out the right of the line and ran it successfully for two years. He then sold out, and continued the same business in other cities until entering the circus business in 1861, when he rented hors to (Dan) Gardner & Hennings to haul their show over the country, Mr. O'Brien acting as boss hostler of the outfil. In 1862 he purchased a third interest in the show, and became the assistant manager. In 1863 he sold that interest to J. E. Cooper, and organized a company traveling under the title of Bryan's & Mrs. Dan Rice's Circus. He sold out in the Fall, and in 1864 put on the road the Tom King Excelsior Circus. The King was the famous leaper, and was only a nominal partner, representing the silent partner, Adam Forepaugh. At the end of that season Mr. O'Brien sold the show to Palmer and Joined Mr. Forepaugh at the partnership having been dissolved and the animals divided, he rented his portion to "Yankee" Robinson on a percentage. In 1867 he fitted out a show under the name of Whitby & Co. and again leased animals to "Yankee" Robinson on a percentage. In 1869 he organized the Campbell Circus and Menagerie. (Heath Frost. manager), and at the same time owned Bryan's Circus and Menagerie. In 1870 he kept the same two shows on the road, Mr. De Mott assuming the management of the Campbell Show. In 1871 he had four shows, viz.: Sheldenberger's Circus and Menagerie. (Hister) Sir Wengerie (Wirton's Menagerie (Wirton's East Harrison Street, Frankford, Philadelphia Sept. 7, from asthma. THE TWO LA Rosas—Frank and Eddie—are still creating a great sensation with T. K. Burk's Circus, this being their inheteenth week with that show, their double bar act and Spanish ring act being one of the principal features. They are now en route South with Burk's Circus.

AT Burfalo, N. Y., Sept. 7, as Prof. Hogan, the aeronaut, was starting on a trip skyward from the Fair Grounds his balloon, which had been filled with hot air, caught fire. It went swiftly upward, and Hogan had barely time to detach his parachule before the balloon collapsed. The balloon came to earth before Prof. Hogan.

NOTES FROM THE ANDRESS SHOWS.—Despite cool weather and frequent rains, business has been uniformly good. Thirty-six horses, one tableau car and two chariots have been added to the show during the past week. A slight railroad accident occurred last week between Cameron and Brockfield, which, aside from breaking most of the mirrors, washistands, etc., on the sleeping car, did very little damage. A few performers were jarred out of their berths. Brulses were numerous, but no bones broken.

JAMES W. WILDER, recently deceased, was connected with the show business from his youth. He was agent for Smith, Spalding & Rogers' Circus about 1854, and was part proprietor of Goodwin & Wilder's Circus later. He was with John H. Murray's Circus, and had piloted "Artemus Ward" (Chas. Farrar Browne) through this country and also "Dr. Lynn" (Simmons) the magician. He was at one time manager of the Hanions, and concerned in many other enterprises of the kind. Latterly he had been engaged in boring artesian wells in California. He died at San Francisco, Aug. 15, aged sixty-three years. He was a native of New Hampshire.

ADAM FOREPAUGH JR., Otto Twigg, Burt Johnson, Dr. Lewis White, James Marks, Charley McCarty and C. A. Davis, of the Forepaugh Show, visited Sells Bros.' Circus, at Washington, Kas., Aug. 24. The Forepaugh contingent engaged a special train in order to reach Washington in time to witness Sells' street parade.

News comes from the Forepaugh Show that Charles Ellis (Chas. Ashton) was arrested at Kansas City, Mo. last week, for falsely obtaining money from merchants at Independence on account of the W. W. Cole Circus. He was openly denounced as an imposter by E. H. Madigan, of the Forepaugh Show, only a few hours prior to the arrival of warrants from Independence. At his trial, Aug. 27, he was sentenced to six months at hard labor. He is known to have victimized people at other places in Missouri, Illinois and the Southwest, and i ssupposed to be the person who last Winter worked illegally in Detroit as the agent of the Forepaugh Show.

Boston .- The first week of "Hands Across the Sea" closed at the Boston Museum Sept. 7, to a succession of splendid audiences. My wiring on the opening night was necessarily brief, as the per-formance did not end until something after eleven o'clock and yet I may modestly make the claim to have summed the new piece up altogether correctly. It is a conventional English melodrama, of which we have seen so many types during the past few seasons. It is interesting to those who admire this style of play, but becomes thresome to the theatre-goers who have had a surfeit of such dramas. The story of the play is padded most extravagantly, and there is any amount of opportunity for the excising pencil. The well worn gambling hell scene and the ship deck scene are also introduced with more or less scenic effect. Of the individual artistic successes I must accord George Wilson as Tom Bassett a generous meed of approbation for as offer and realistically sympathetic piece of acting at the end of the second act as I have yet seen him do. It is where he learns of the mistake he has been laboring under that Lilian Melford loves him and he returns from Australia to offer his hand in marriage. His facial byplay and his hysterical laughing and crying were superb. John B. Mason's work as Jack Dudley was exceptionally meritorious, and Miriam O'Leary, ever careful and painstaking, made a positive hit as Lucy Nettieford, and no mistake. I think with these few commentaries I may be permitted to allow "Hands Across the Sea" to pass along for the present and simply watch the length of its run. "ARK TREATRE. New York Caledonians.

The annual picnic and games of the New York Caledonian Club, held at Jones Wood and Washing-Calconian Club, field at Jones Wood and Washington Park on Thursday, Sept. 5, proved more successful financially than any similar event held here for years. So far as the sports are concerned, however, they scarcely compared favorably in point of interest with those witnessed at some of the former carnivals of the hardy sons of auld Scotia. Aside from the shot putting of Charles Currie, the Canadian giant, there was nothing sensational, although the events, as a rule, were well contested, and of much interest to the spectators, who stood their ground till the programme was finished. At Agricultural Park, Worcester, Mass., Sept. 5, says-our-correspondent, in a hook and ladder race, under the auspices of the New England Agricultural Society, the best previous record was broken by all three of the contestants. The conditions of the race were: Twenty-five men in each company, to run 22vds, to a 1.000th truck return with it to scratch, raise a ladder and place a man on top of 28ft. building. The Natick (Mass.) H. and L. Co. won in 18s., taking first prize of $200. The companies from Leominster and Spencer divided second money, $100, each having fluished in Im. Captain H. R. Williamson referee; W. A. England, timekeeper. We are in receipt of a document from the officials named cettifying to the genuineness of the performance.

E. I. STONES, the English champion pole vaulters and conqueror of his towns and Toun Ray, whose record, however, he has not yet equalled, arrived at this port on Saturday, Sept. 7, and will be seen at the championship meeting at Travers Island on the 14th inst. Unfortunately, we will not have the pleasure of seeing Stones and the American champion, Hugh Baxter, in competition, as the latter has not recovered the use of his arm, sprained while vaulting last Spring, and cannot take part in the contest. This will be a great disappointment to many people.

About three hundred persons were present at the meeting for the decision of the general athletic championship, held under the auspices of the Amameeting for the decision of the general athletic championship, held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, at the grounds of the Brooklyn Athletic Association, on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 7. The weather was favorable to iirst class performances and the track was in good condition, while the management was in capable hands. The championship competition embraced ten events and the result was decided by points, on the basis of five for a winner, three for second, and one for third. There were seven entries, but one of them. Dr. J. K. Shell, of the Athetic Club of the Schuylkill Navy, did not compete, and one of the others, C. L. Livingston, New York A. C., was out of it after the third event, he having failed to qualify in either one. What he entered for its difficult to conceive, for he showed remarkably poor ability at everything he essayed. It was the general opinion that the contest really lay between Malcolm W. Ford (holder of the title), A. A. Jordan and George R. Gray, and this proved to be the case, although the latter failed to qualify in the pole vault, broad jump and mile run on account of which the points he made in other events were thrown out. Ford, who won handsomely, did not qualify in the 56th weight competition, or start in the mile run, but he received the point for third in the 56th competition for the reason that only two qualified and Ford was third by distance. The victory of the representative of the Staten Island Athletic Club was generally expected, and he certainly deserved it by reason of the excellent character of his performances, especially in the balf mile run, in which he led throughout, giving a fine exhibition of speed and endurance. The regular championship programme was varied with open competitions, sandwiched so as to give the aspirants for champion honors needed rest between events. Runts:

AQUATIC.

Union Boat Club Regatta.

This annual event on the Harlem River, held on Saturday, Sept. 7. was spoiled by the fouls committed by R. Schile, which gained for him uncomplimentary criticism on all sides. The day was delightful, there was a good turnout to see the delightful, there was a good turnout to see the races, and the water was in splendid condition. The events resulted as here shown: Single scull shells—J. J. Schile first, in 4m. 59s., the distance being about six furlongs, straightaway; T. H. Roche second. Single scull gigs. novices—W. J. Schneider first, no time taken; G. L. Kessler second. Senior single scull gigs—M. B. Kaesche first, on a foul; R. H. Schile disqualified. Four oared shells—J. J. Schile (bow), E. B. Schile, W. Fitxsimmons, E. W. O'Hara (coxswain), second. Four oared gigs—There were five entries for this event, but only two responded to the repeated signals of the referee to go to the starting point. He, therefore, properly decided to start the race without the tardy oarsmen. The crews to start were coxswained respectively by E. W. O'Hara and W. J. Schneider. They were about even when opposite the Atlainta Boat Club house, at which point the R. H. Schile crew, one of the absentees, deliberately fouled the O'Hara crew, thinking thereby to have the race started again. The referee ordered that the two crews who had originally started should row the race over, none of the others entered to be allowed to take part in the race. It is probable that the club will take some needed action in the case of Schile. races, and the water was in splendid condition

Boating at Bay Ridge. The Nautilus Boat Club of Brooklyn held their nnual Fall regatta at their course at Bay Ridge, R. Teemer vs. Gaudaur.

Now that the race for the championship of the world has been decided, lovers of rowing will give their whole attention to the forthcoming race betheir whole attention to the forthcoming race between those old opponents, John Teemer of Mc-Keesport, Pa., and Jake Gaudaur of St. Louis, Mo. both of whom have held the title of champion of America. The match is for $1,000 a side, and the final deposit, $800 from each side, was posted on Sept. 6, at the effice of The Pittsburg Dispatch, which is final stakeholder. At the same time the $300 allowed Gaudaur for expenses was handed to the latter. The distance to be rowed is four miles, straightaway, from Port Perry to a point almost opposite McKeesport, on the Monongahela. Both men have been in careful training on the course during the week and both express confidence in their ability to carry off the prize. Gaudaur is a slight favorite in the betting, notwithstanding the fact that the race is to be rowed on waters most familiar to his opponent. Ed. Hanlan is expected to be present at the race, and both Gaudaur and Teemer have expressed their willingness to give him a race, in case he should wish another trial.

Harlem Regatta Association.

At a meeting of this organization, held in this city on Sept. 5, it was decided to hold a Fall regatta open only to associate clubs, over the regular open only to associate clubs, over the regular course of the association on the Harlem River, on Sept. 28. The following is the programme of events: Single sentls, for diamond medal and banner to club; pair oared shell, for piece of plate and banner; special event, open to all amateur boat clubs, eight oared shell race, entrance fee $3 per man, prize medal to each man of winning crew, and banner to club the crew represents.

THE YACHT H. H. Holmes again defeated the Three Brothers in the second of the series of races, best two in three, for $250 a s.fte, which was sailed on the Sound on Sept. 8. The distance sailed was twenty miles, and the Holmes won by less than a minute, in 2h. 48m. A steady breeze was blowing from east by northeast. The closeness of the two races shows how well matched are these boats, and it is probable that a fresh series of races will be arranged between them.

THE RING.

The Champion in New York,

John L. Sullivan returned to the metropolis on Saturday morning, accompanied by his father and brother, and took apartments at the Vanderbilt Hotel, where the champion was waited upon during the day by a number of friends. In the evening the Hotel, where the champion was waited upon during the day by a number of friends. In the evening the postponed festimonial came off at the Academy of Music. This affair had been very poorly advertised, and in consequence there was not the cruish that had been anticipated by the projectors, and that there would have been had the benefit been placed before the public in a proper way. As it was, however, there was an audience of about two thousand present. Sullivan was warmly received when he appeared on the stage, set to represent a drawing room, and in response to repeated calls he made a short speech. Him and Mike Cleary gave a scientific illustration of how battles are won and lost, the display gaining for the performers abundant applause, which proved that the audience were pleased therewith. Sullivan never appeared to better advantage in a scientific setto. He looked well physically, and he was quite as quick upon his feet and with his head and hands as upon any previous occasion when he has appeared in public here. While awaiting his appearance on the stage the audience were epierialned with a wrestling exhibition by William Muldoon and Greek George, in which the former, who was greeted with loud applatuse when he appeared, put his adversary on his back in just nine minutes; William Johnson, of Vermont, and Joe Hennessy of Michigan, wrestled in collar and elbow style, the former winning the deciding fall: Jimmy Carroll of Brooklyn and Ed. Connors boxed, tollowed by Eugene Hornbacker and Jim Collins, Jack Hopper and Pat Melia; G. F. Reece swung the Indian clubs gracefully, Jonn Whitman, the man with he iron Jaw, lifted various heavy weights with his teeth, Sheridan and Shannon also had a go with the mittens, and ex-Champion Joe Coburn, a warm friend of the present champion, was introduced. Sullivan will remain in the city for some days.

JOHNNY REAGAN left the city for San Francisco Cal., on Aug. 29, to fulfill his engagement to fight Young Mitchell with gloves at the rooms of the California Athletic Club. Alf. Power the capable trainer and second, accompanies him, and will train and handle him during the battle. Johnny was, like every one else, greatly surprised at the outcome of the Dempsey-La Blanche fight, and states his mitention, if successful in his light with Mitchell, to try and get on with the Marine.

manager; N. L. Griffin, acting manager, "The buchess of Maifi" was the only play presented the first week.

Mr. Waller's reading was always judicious and in accordance with the spirit of the lines. His gesticulation was easy, natural and well considered His "points" (to use a technical phrase) were the cessant and many of them strikingly original. He had been a careful student, and was thoroughly posted in the "business" of the stage. His appearance was uncommonly fine—a handsome, intelligent face and a graceful figure. His voice was full, clear and flexible—in the lower register singularly melodious and powerful. He was a natural, judicious, original actor, full of the fire of genius, its intensity chastened by sensible discrimination. When Edwin Booth first opened his Sixth Avenue and Twenty-third Street house, Mr. Waller was stage.

B. Booth Jr. retired. He died in this city, Jan. 20, 1882. Personally of a refined and sensative nature, energetic and impulsive, frank and courteous in manner kindly in disposition, ne endeared himself most closely to those with whom he was ass ciated. Mrs. Emma Waller was a great actress. Her greatness did not arise from that of the character, but consisted in her manner of portraying it. She grasped all the elements which make up a character, and ruled them with a power divine—lor genius is an attribute of Delty. She never relied on art, although she was a ralept in its mysteries. She possessed at a she was a store of the acting was called to order and the stage. Her Lady Alacheth was a wonder on the stage. Her Lady Alacheth was a wonder on the stage. Her Lady Alacheth was a wonder of the passion; her face as full of fury as a stormy midnight sky; her lunatic gestures, and her nevous, burning elocution, will not fade from my memory until 1 forget that Shakespeare ever handled a quill. Her personation of Lady Mabel, in "The Patrician's Daughter," was an amaging delineation of character, I have seldom. If ever witnessed a stage death which did not strike as broken, thick, uncerain speech—her pailid face and patthos that lulled the whirlyind ol passion and actress makes us forget where warre, we men an actress makes us forget where warre, we man an actress makes us forget where warre, we man an actress makes us forget where warre, we man an actress makes us forget where warre, we man an actress makes us forget where warre, we man an aduothed the ruggedoness of its features. "Your Life's in Danger." He continued at this theatre, under Edward Eddy's management, and played all the horse dramas, most of the dialect, character and general business. He was engaged by Eddy for Niblo's, and from there went to the New Bowery Theatre, where he commenced the opening night in "The Orange Giri of Venice." There he continued until the breaking out of the war. He acted at Wallack's (Broome Street) Theatre with J. Wilkes Booth. He then went to the Old Bowery with Geo. L. Fox.

It is a common habit among the actors of today (one part actors) to talk disparagingly of "Bowery" actors, without knowing the meaning of the word. Twenty old years ago it was the highest compliment you could pay an actor; for instance, when Mme. Celeste was required to play "The French Spy" at the Broadway, none could be found in the theatre to play the pantomime part of the Arab who fights the desperate combat. McCloskey nad to be sent for. Acting nowadays is fun, both in pay and work, compared to that of those days, but it made actors not automatons.

The season closed May 1. E. A. Marshall retired from the management May 1, for during the last few years of his reign the theatre did not prove profitable. owing to rapid uptown movement of citizens for residences. While managing this house, up to his last days here, he lost so much money that he publicly announced that he was about to give up its management. A committee of citizens got up a benefit for him. at Castle Garden. Like many other of the managers of that day, he had exhausted his means in his efforts to please the public. At this house he left no stone unturned to win popular appleuse and reap the benefits of popular appreciation, for we have had no better stock companies, stage settings more appropriate, or seenic displays more generous, with the single exception of Jarrett & Palmer's Shakespearian productions. The results were not happy, however; disheartened, he determined to abandon the enterprise. By referring to the programme gotten up on that occasion, and [TO BE CONTINUED.]

He has been appointed United States Consul at Toronto. Can., and spent a few days in this city before going to his new post. Mr. Pope is a competent and conscientions actor, a rare gentleman of that old school which has so iew representatives among the younger generation; and his friends, who are thickly scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, feel sure that he will honor the new field upon which he has entered by as conscientious work as that which he performed on the stage. Mr. Pope is a literary man as well as an actor.

Last year's victors in the U. S. C. Anyhow, to have held a second congress at all was 100 per cent, gain on any previous national association, and the Third Congress, next year, at St. Louis, may fairly be expected to outdo both the others; for is not the ever faithful and indefatigable Max Judd the mainspring thereof? Now we advise the authorities of the U. S. A., when "in council assembled," at this third congress, to give diligent heed to, and weigh well, the words of Bro. Seguin ament attempting only a bennial Congress, like the German Schachbund. His reasons for urging it are cognif, each of the contraction of the contraction

The Boston Caledonians.

Oak Island was the objective point for shout twelve thousand residents of Boston, Mass., of all nationalities, on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 29, the nationalities, on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 29, the attraction being the annual picnic and sports of the Boston Caledonian Society. The weather was perfect, the grounds in excellent order, and the competitions were watched with much interest. The most important event on the programme was the heavy hammer throwing contest, for prizes aggregating $175, for which J. A. McDougall was the favorite. His first throw was 90ft, which D. C. Ross eclipsed easily with 10 fft. 2in. This took the steel out of the favorite, and he went to pieces, Ross winning the prize with a cast of 100ft. 6in., which, presuming that the ground was level, the weight correct, and the measurement accurate, is the best professional record at this style of throwing. Great American Handicap. The first handicap ever given under the auspices of the Professional Athletic Association of America took place at Broadway Athletic Park, Denver, Col., on the afternoon of Aug. 25. The entry list contained forty-two names, among them being the fastest sprinters in America, whose records are well known. The distance was 1357ds. H. M. Johnson, champion, was scratch man, the others being given from 2½ to 12½ yards. There were eight trial heats, the winners of these heats being placed in the second heat of eight, and the first and second man in these heats being allowed to compete in the final heat. First heat: J. P. Haughn, Casey, Neb., 73yds., first, in 13½s; W. Peppers, Red Oak, 5½yds., second; W. Stebbins, Denver, 7½yds., third. Second heat: F. W. Stone, New York, 4½yds., had a walk over. Third heat: James Collins, Edgerton, Wis., 2½yds, walked over. Fourth heat: H. M. Johnson, St. Louis, scratch, first, in 135%; L. J. Fowler, Denver, 7½yds., second, by three yards. Fifth heat: G. H. Smith, 3½yds., had a walk over. Sixth heat: W. Condon, Laramie, 10½yds., and W. H. Hough, Allegany, 5½yds., ran a dead heat, in 13½s. Seventh heat: W. Y. Saunders, Galt, 7½yds., first, in 13s.; Leon Lozier, Council Bluffs, 7½yds., second; C. R. Huulley, Huron, Dak., 3½yds., third; E. B. Toll, Kansas Clity, 7yds., fourth. A very close heat. Eighth heat: W. C. Ross, Omaha, Neb., 7½yds., first, in 13s.; Collins second, Stone third, Smith fourth. This was a fine race. Second heat—Saunders first, in 13s.; Collins second, Johnson third, Haughn fourth. There was about two feet between first and second, at the finish there was not more than two feet difference between the winner and the fourth man. The following were the officials: referce, D. E. Rowe; starters, Capt. T. C. Smith, E. W. Moulton and D. E. Rowe; second judge, Dr. C. H. Scott. The excellent starting done by Capt. of the Professional Athletic Association of America took place at Broadway Athletic Park, Denver, Col., fourth man. The following were the omelas; referee, D. E. Rowe; starters Capt. T. C. Smith, E. W. Moulton and D. E. Rowe; second judge, Dr. C. H. Scott. The excellent starting done by Capt. Sewall was highly praised by all, not a man objecting to his start. There was a larger number of "even timers" in the race than ever before ran in one race in America. The man who won the handicap under the name of "W. Condon" is said to be a "ringer," and does not belong at Laramie, where he claims his residence.

Firemens' Tourney

The thirteenth annual tournament of the Colorado and Wyoming Firemen's Association was closed Saturday, Aug. 24, at Denver. Financially it was not a success. Some very fast work was done, and the All America Hose Team, entered from the Highland Hose Company, of Denver, are stated to have broken the world's record, in their final heat. The team was made up as follows: Spike lead, James Collins; H. M. Johnson, O. R. Huntley, W. Y. Saunders, J. P. Haughn, Fred W. Stone, George H. Smith, W. H. Hough and Wm. Peppers. They ran the two hundred yards with cart and 260ft. of hose in 2136s. The Hooks of Gycley, Col., won the State championship belt and $300. Aspen Hose, No. 1, won the marching contest; prize, $100. Henry Sarwash, Denver Hooks, No. 1, won the ladder climbing contest and $75. Anthony Hose, of Kansas, won the amateur hose company contest, the Hook and Fleming doing the work and receiving $50. New Jersey Athletes.

There was a fairly good crowd at the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club, at Bergen Point, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 31, when the Fall games of that organization were held. The weather could not have been tiner for the competitors, while a pleasant breeze served to temper the heat of the sun's rays and make life more endurable for the spectators. There were many absentees from the list of entries, but, nevertheless, there were enough athletes of repute present to render the games very interesting. In the three legged race, 150yds, the former record was broken. The banner offered to the club taking the most number of points was awarded to the N. J. A. C., the referee ruling that Schwegler, the Staten Island A. C. representative, was not entitled to any points for the reason that he had run in the coirs of two different clubs in the same year, in violation of the Union rules. Racing Association was the event which specially interested the owners of small yachts on Labor Day, Sept. 2, when eighty-two boats took part in a successful contest in the upper and lower Bay. The weather was perfection, a fair breeze blowing from south southeast at starting and holding good during the race, while the sky was clear and the water smooth. The start was made off Liberty Island, and the several courses were as follow: For classes A, B, C and D, to and around buoy 8½, on the Southwest Spit; classes E and F. to and around the red bell buoy at the end of the Swash Channel; classes G, Nos. 1, 2, 5 6 and 7, to and around buoy No. 13, off Swinburne Island; classes 3, 4, 8 and 9, to and around buoy No. 15, leaving it on the porthand, thence to and around Fort Lafayette. This was the largest fleet of yachts that ever started in these waters, and the spectacle, as they ran for home before the wind, everything drawing, was a beautiful marine picture. The starting signal was given at 12m. 29s. A. M., and the following table shows the time of finishing, the elapsed and the corrected time of all the boats that went the course.

THE RIVERSIDE YACHT CLUB, Greenwich, Ct., held a ladies' day regatta on Sept. 2, on which occasion the ladies who sailed on the different yachts each received a beautifu, gold pin as a memento. The race was a success in every particular, the winners in the several classes being: Class A. Eleanor, Class B. Alcedo; Class C, Verant; Class D, Direne; Class E, Zelda.

Amateur Oars on the Charles.

Amateur Oars on the Charles.

The first annual regatts of the New England Amateur Rowing Association was held on the Charles River, at Boston, Mass., on Labor Day, Sept. 2, and proved an unqualified success. In the matter of weather and water nothing could have been desired, and the fifteen thousand speciators who gathered to witness the contests were generally of opinion that it was the finest rowing carnival that ever took place on that stream. The prizes for the events were offered by the Association, the City of Boston, and a couple of Boston merchants deeply interested in rowing sports. With the exception of the eight oared race, which was over a distance of a mile and a half, straightaway, all the rowing events were over a course of two miles, with a turn, the canoe race being one mile, with turn. A successful Fall regatta was sailed by boats of this club in the lower Bay on Sept. 2. The boats of class B sailed a distance of twelve miles, those of class C the same, and the catboats, in class A, nine miles. The wind was just strong enough to send the boats along merrily, without danger of mishap, and some interesting racing was witnessed. Of class summary:

STRAY SPARKS FROM THE DIAMOND.

Gossip About Ball Tossers from Here There and Everywhere.

one of the most disgraceful scenes ever witnessed on the ball field occurred Sept. 7 on the Brooklyn Club's grounds, when the Brooklyn and St. Louis Clubs commenced their last series. It is to be hoped for the good name of the national game to be noped for the good name of the national game that no more such questionable acts will again be seen on any ball field. The "hoodlum" element reigned supreme, and it was anything to "beat St. Louis," and that opinion was not only with the roughs, but Goldsmith seemed to hold the same opinion, judging from the treatment the visitors re-ceived throughout the entire game. President Von der Ahe, of the St. Louis Club, and his men were very fortunate in escaping from the grounds without being seriously injured, although a number of ny the toughs present. That Goldsmith is incompetent and not fit to fill the position of unpire was fully demonstrated on this occasion. There was not a fair-minded person on the grounds who were not of that of the grounds who were not of that of learning. Should the American Association uphold Umpire Goldsmith in his action, then it will be gruity of legalized robbery, and the sooner that organization disbands the better it will be for the national game. Umpire Goldsmith proved his utter incompetency, and no such work for a moment should be countenanced, nor should it be allowed to go on record. There is no question but that when Captain Comiskey and his team left the feld, that it was too dark to play any longer, it being at that time fully forty minutes after the game in New York City had been called on account of darkness. Under the circumstances the visitors were fully justified in leaving the grounds, as it was actually too dark to play, and they were running a great risk of being permanently disabled. In regard to the delaving of the game both teams were equally guilty. The Brooklyns began it in the fifth inning, when they were abead, and it is claimed that they wanted the game called then on account of darkness. Capt. Comiskey says: "When I went up to Goldsmith and kicked about them delaying the game he said: 'How can I make them play. What do you want me to do, to carry them out to their places?" The game was delayed fully fifteen minutes, if not longer, and that for no other purpose than to have the game called. However, when we obtained the lead then it was light enough to play." This delay on the part of the Brooklyns was uncalled for. Duffee seeing this, started for second. The ball accidentally struck him, and he reached second in safety. The Brooklyn players claimed that he should be declared out; but that would have been too bare-faced an act, and Goldsmith allowed him to remain safe on the bound, and Duffee, seeing this, started for second. The ball accidentally struck him, and he reached secon they did not want a repetition of such a scene, as they might not escape so fortunately this time.

President Von der Ahe was seen by TKE CLIPPER representative at his hotel on Sept. 9, and he said: "Goldsmith is wholly responsible for all of this disturbance. Had he done his duty as the rules require he would have called the game when it became too dark for further playing. Goldsmith has given us a bad deal all along. Why he called the game in Baltimore half an hour earlier than it was when we left the field in Brooklyn, and yet he claimed it was then foo dark to play any longer. Now, as for not going over to Ridgewood Park on Sunday, we had no assurance that we would be protected from the mob. However, Byrne was aware of the fact that we would not go over there, and he had plenty of time to so announce it in the Sunday papers, but he would not do that, as he of course expected to claim another game by forfeiture. I see that Byrne says that when he received my dispatch saying that we would not play at Ridgewood Park that it was too late to hunt me up. Yet in his dispatch to Wikoff he tells him to send me word at the Grand Central Hotel. If he could not find me here how did he expect Wikoff In the second of the second of

The St. Louis team protested a great deal on Umpire Ferguson's decisions, Sept. 1, in Columbus, O., and at one point, when Ferguson called Comiskey out, the latter stopped the game for some minutes to tell the umpire what he thought of him. He said that Ferguson was umpiring in the interest of Brooklyn; that he never would give St. Louis a square deal, and that he would not play with Ferguson as umpire if he could help it. Comiskey was loudly hissed. Ferguson got back at him, and the game then proceeded. On Sept. 3, in Baltimore, Comiskey reiterated the charge that Ferguson recently gave Columbus the better of it. He refused to make any detailed statement, but contented himself with shaking his head and keeping mum. President Von der Ahe was more communicative. He said: "It is time this Brooklyn man (meaning Byrne) should be sat upon. He has been governing the umpires as he pieased, and it is getting to be too apparent. I will bring the Ferguson business up at the next meeting. Why, the tying run at Columbus was made through Orr pretending that he had reached first when annother man had batted the ball to Robinson. Orr had been coaching and when the ball was hit ran to first and fooled the fielder."

first and fooled the fielder."

An umpire was assaulted at Darlington, S. C., where on Aug. 30, a team from Wadesboro, N. C., went to play a game. The North Carolina team carried with them a youth named William Marshall, who was chosen for umpire. As the game progressed the umpire made a decision that did not give satisfaction to the Darlington team. Hot words were passed, and suddeniv Leon Dargan, one of the players, rushed up with a heavy bat in his hand, and struck Umpire Marshall a learnul blow across the head, knocking him insensible. The umpire was taken to Wadesboro on the first train, but during the trip did not recover his reason. Young Dargan was arrested, but was subsequently released on bail, on information received from Wadesboro that the umpire would probably recover.

A bit of sharp practice was resorted to in a game recently played at East Saginaw. Mich. A runner was on third base and the pitcher was about to deliver the ball, when the manager of the oth relub jumped up from the players' bench and asked the pitcher to let him see the ball, which the pitcher did. The manager then threw the ball back of the grand stand, thus allowing the runner on third to score a run. Similar tricks by players were resorted to recently in a Washington-Philadelphia game and an Atlantic Association game. It is bad enough in players to stoop to such contemptible tricks, but a line should be drawn when managers take a hand in any such work.

Manager Mutrie has written to the Boston Club officials for the purpose of arranging a series of exhibition games between the New York and Boston teams after the championship season closes. He says that the two teams will be tille between Oct. 5 and 15, and that six games can be arranged, three in this city, and three in Boston, and, if the seventh is necessary, it can be played on neutral grounds. Nothing definite has been done as yet in the matter.

In a game between two amateur nines Sept, 2, in Chicago, Pitcher McNerney, while in the act of delivering a swift inshoot, snapped a bone in his arm a few inches from the shoulder, and fell to the ground unconscious. An examination revealed the fact that his arm was broken, the bone almost protruding through the flesh.

The Cuban Giants and Hazletons played two games, Sept. 2, at Hoboken, N. J., and the "Giants" won both. The first one consisted of only seven innings. In it the "Giants" made three hits and scored turee runs, while the Hazletons made only two hits and scored two runs. In the second game the Hazletons made only two hits, but did not score.

Hazletons made only two hits, but did not score.

Hardie Richardson was responsible for Boston's second victory Sept. 2, by making in the first inning the only and winning run on a home run hit, which Indianapolis claimed was foul, and he was in a manner accountable for Boston's defeat Sept. 3, when his miss in the ninth let in the winning run for Indianapolis.

Three clubs disbanded Sept. 3, viz.: The York (Pa.) Club, of the Middle States League: Norwalk (Ct.) Club, of the Atlantic Association, and the Kalamazoo Club, of the Atlantic Association, and the Kalamazoo Club, of the Middle States League, It is claimed that each had run behind fluancially.

Graham, the third baseman of the Norristown Club, of the Middle States League, made his first appearance with the Athletic team, of Philadelphia, Sept. 4, and his work has been so good that he has made a favorable impression on the Philadelphia public.

An intimate friend of Horace Phillips, the stricken manager, saw him at Merchantsville, N. J., a few days ago, and was surprised at his rational condition. He takes daily drives converses intelectually, and does not show any but the most favorable signs of permanent improvement. President Von der Ahe of the St. Louis is very anxious to get some of the Athletic players, including Welch, Lyons and Pitcher McMahon. He offered to trade Latham and Duffy for Lyons and Welch, and wanted to purchase the release of McMahon.

The Americus team, of Philadelphia, went to Phonixville, Sept. 2, and played an eleven inning tie game with the team of that place. The game was called on account of darkness, with the score standing 2 to 2.

Joseph P. Visner, one of the catchers of the Brooklyn Club, was born about twenty-nine years Boseph P. Visner, one of the catchers of the Brooklyn Club, was born about twenty-nine years ago, in Minneapolis, Minn., and began playing ball with the amateur teams of his native city. His first professional engagement was in 1884, when he caught for the Stillwater (Minn.) Club of the Northwestern League until it disbanded, Aug. 4. He made a fine record as a catcher while with that club, and also had a batting average of 324. After playing for a short time with the Keokuk (fa.) Club, Visner finished the season of 1884 as a member of the Union Pacific team, of Omaha, Neb. In 1885 he signed with the Kansas City Club of the Western League, and remained there until the club disbanded, in June. He was then engaged by the Baltimore Club, but met with a serious accident, his shoulder being dislocated during the progress of a game. Visner then accepted an engagement with the Rochester Club of the newly organized New York State League, with which he finished the season of 1885, ranking fourth in the official batting averages, besides having a good fielding record. Altogether his work was considered remarkable, and his services were in great demand, but he concluded to remain, in 1886, with the Rochester Club, then a member of the International League, with which he played right field and change catcher. The lormer position, however, was more acceptable to him than playing behind the bat, and he played sixty-six games in the outfield and only twenty-six as catcher. He again bind the bat, and he played sixty-six games in the outfield and only twenty-six as catcher. He again had a good batting average, ranking seventh in that respect in the International League. He had many tempting offers from the Pittsburg and other ciubs of the American Association, as well as from several in the National League, but he wisely refused all, and decided to remain with the Rochester Club, where he continued to do good work both at the bat and in the field. On account of the Rochester Club being in doubt as to whether or not it would present a team in 1888, Visner joined the Hamilton (Ont.) Club, also of the International Association. Visner kept up his fine work for the Hamilton Club, and made a great record for himself, both in batting and fielding. He caught in sixty-four games, and ranked third in the official fielding averages. At the close of that season there was a brisk demand for his services, but he was finally induced to sign with the Brooklyn Club. The Boston Club, however, had the prior claim on his services, and only withdrew it when the Detroit men were signed. Visner is a steady and reliable player, and has materially helped the Brooklyn Club this season, both at the bat and in fielding.

We acknowledge the receipt, from the Hatch Lithograph Co., of this city, of E. R. Williams' "Indoor Baseball." which seems to be one of the most interesting, as well as enjoyable, parior games with cards yet invented. It provides an accurate representation of the national game, and offers for indoor enjoyment a welcome and exciting substitute at all seasons of the year.

On Aug. 31, in Buffalo, Umpire Hoover was in sulted by a spectator and had him put out, but the individual climbed a telegraph pole outside the grounds and continued to enjoy the game and roast Hoover to his heart's content.

J. A. Kerins resigned as an umpire of the American Association Sept. 6, in Baltimore, and signed as a catcher with the Baltimore Club.

In the Michigan League, the Kalamazoo Club owing to poor attendance, disbanded Sept. 3. The officers of the League have been directed to proceed against the sureties of the club's forfeited bond without delay. The Flint Club has been admitted, and start from an independent position. The standing of the clubs. Sept. 6, follows Saginaw, won 49, lost 29; Grand Rápids, won 41, lost 35; Jackson, won 41, lost 35; Lanning, won 35, lost 43; Kialmazoo disbanded), won 32, lost 43; Greenville, won 31, lost 44; Flint, won none, lost 2.

Mananger Hart, of the Boston team, was, Sept. 8, in Boston, entertained at supper, and presented with a heavy gold chain, and a Masonic charm studded with lewels. The present was from the players of the Boston Club.

A peculiar accident happened. Sept. 7, at Tamatown, lowa, during a game. In the fourth inning Gabeline, the pitcher of the Tamatown nine, put so much torce into his delivery that he broke his arm.

There were four games played by amateur clubs on sept. 7, in which the losing team made only one safe hit. Three were four games Payed by a score of 10 to 1.

On Sept. 8, at La-4 Grange, N. J., the Cincinnatis were deteated by the newarks by a score of 10 to 5.

Baltimore vs. St. Louis.

The Baltimores beat the St. Louis, for the sixth time, Sept. 3, in Baltimore, it being the seventeenth game of the series. Foreman held the champions down to four hits, two of which were by Duffee and would have shut them out, bad it not been for a wild throw by Quinn. King was wild and inef fective in the last two innings, when the Baltimores bunched six safe hits, and scored five runs. Mack made a great catch of a hot liner. Athletic vs. Kansas City.

The eighteenth game was played, Sept. 3, in Phila-delphia, the Kansas City team then scoring their delphia, the Kansas City team then scoring their seventh victory of the series. Mattimore, recently released by the Athletics, made his first appearance with the visitors, and led in batting, with a triple and two singles, besides fledding finely. Brennan played third base for the Athletics, Lyons having been indefinitely suspended, and had two costly errors. Long made a brilliant catch, on which he accomplished a double play, unassisted. Welch, with two doubles and a single, did the best batting for the Athletics. The visitors started off with the

Exciting Struggle between Boston and

New York for the lead. The sixteenth game was played, Sept. 3, in Boston, a remarkable streak of batting at the finish then enabling the Indianapolis team to even up the victories in the series. Madden was batted hard throughout, especially in the last half of the ninth inning, when the visitors bunched four singles and a double bagger and, alded by a muff by Richardson, secured six runs and the victory. A lucky double bagger by Quinn sent in three men, who were on bases, in the first inning. Four hits, in the fourth, gave Boston four more runs, and a long lead.

AQUATIC.

A Noted Man Gone. Edward B. Rankin, for many years sporting editor of The Boston Herald, died at four o'clock A.M. on Sept. 6 from heart failure, at the Rose Standish House, Downer Landing, Mass., aged forty-A.M. on Sept. 6 from neart failing, Mass, aged forty-two years. For a number of years he had been in failing health, and had made several trips abroad in the hope that he would be benefited thereby. The change brought little relief, however. A week previously to his death he returned to Boston from Newport, where he had been attending to the tennis championship games between Kerr and Pettitt, and where he had been attacked with symptoms of the complaint which terminated his busy life. Anxious to be with his family, who were stopping at the Rose Standish House, he took the late train for Hingham, and from there drove to Downer Landing, arriving there at 1.30 a. M. On arriving at the hotel he fell exhausted, and had to be carried to his room, which he never left alive. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and all that was possible for learned physicians to do, aided by the loving care of his gentle wife, was done, but without avail. During the last three days of his life Mr. Rankin was delitious most of the time. The remains were removed to his residence at 127 K Street, South Boston, where the funeral services were held on Monday, the interment being in Calvary Cemetery. Deceased was born at Queenstown, Ire., in December, 1846, his father and mother dying while he was an infant, and he was soon afterwards brought to this country. At the age of fourteen he was employed as office boy by E. C. Bailey, then proprietor of The Herald, and subsequently learned the printer's trade, became a reporter, from which he rose to editor, and had been continuously employed on the paper mentioned up to the period of his death. He had long been the chief of the sporting department, and was widely knewn in professional and amateur circles, especially among oarsmen, for which branch of sport he had a special liking. He was a very popular gentleman, and the news of his death will stir the feelings of many a one who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. In political circles in his native city he had won prominence, having at various two years. For a number of years he had been in fail-Charitable Society, and was a member of many so-cial and sectarian associations. He leaves two chil-dren, a boy and a girl, and a widow. Mr. Rankin's work on The Herald did much to give that journal its first hold upon the lovers of sports in and around the Hub.

Chaos Captures the Futurity—Britannic Breaks a Record. The Fall meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club opened on Monday afternoon, Sept. 2, and as it was a legal holiday, with a splendid card of races to atfully tested the accommodations of this favorite track, packing the grand stand to overflowing and jamming the betting enclosure to the verge of jamming the betting enclosure to the verge of suffocation. The shortcomings of the course, so far as accommodation for a multitude of people is concerned, was clearly shown, bringing forth in bold relief the advantages possessed by the new course at West Chester. The weather was very pleasant, the track in excellent condition, and the sport was worth going a long way to see, although the principaf event of the day, the Average Stakes, was a disappointment, as all the entries except Kingston and Firenzi withdrew, and, as the latter conceded the fast Dwyer colt a lump of weight, the race was really a gift to the latter. Result: Sweep-stakes for all ages, at $25 each, with $1,000 added, of which $250 to second, and $100 to third, five and a half furlongs—F. Gebhard's Volunteer, by Mortemer, 5—122, Hamilton, first, in 1904/ss; Hanover, 5—122, I. Murphy, the favorite, second, by a length and a half; Young Duke, aged, 122. Berrgen, third, two lengths away. ..... The Sapphire Stakes, for two year olds, horses that had not won $750 up to the time of entry, a sweepstakes of $50 each, with $1,250 added, of which $250 to second, and $100 to third, penalties and allowances, five and a half furlongs—A. Belmont's Magnate, by Ill Used, 118. Anderson, first, in 1:094/s; Sinaloa, 115. Barnes, second by a head; Miss Bell, 115, Hamilton, the favorite, third, two lengths away. ..... The Dolphin Stakes, sweepstakes for three year olds, $50 each, $15 forfeit, with $1,250 added, of which $250 to second, $100 to third, penalties and allowances, a mile and a furlong—S. S. Brown's Buddhist, by Hindoo, 114, Bergen, the favorite, first, in 1:564/s; Tavistan, 114 Murphy, second, by less than a length; Philander, 104, Hamilton, third, four lengths behind. .... The Great Fall Selling Stakes, for all ages, a sweepstakes of $50 each, h. f., with $1,250 added, of which $200 to second, and $100 to third, selling allowances, a mile and a furlong—W. C. Daly's Broazomarte, by Rayon d'07, 5—107, Doane, first, in 1:66/s; Tavistan, 114 ward, at $25 ea suffocation. The shortcomings of the course, so far as accommodation for a multitude of people is

C. to add $10,000, of wnich $2,000 and two thirds of the starting money to the scond, and $1,000 and one-third of the starting money to third, colts to carry 115th, fillies and geldings 112th, penalties and allowances, six furlongs—W. L. Scott's Chaos, by Rayon D'Or, 109, Day, first, in 1:165; St. Carlo, 122, Garrison, the favorite, second, by a neck; Sinaloa II, 105, Barnes, third, two lengths and a half behind. Nearly half an hour was occupied in getting the field off, but finally, at the third attempt, they were sent away well together, with no one having a decided advantage over the others. As the turn was made Amazon showed in front, with St. Carlo second, Chaos third and Eberlee, the Western representative, fourth. Coming down the straight Amazon fell back, while Chaos was urged forward, and opposite the betting stands secured a good lead. This Garrison, on the favorite, strove hard to deprive him of, the fight all the way to the goal being desperate between them, but the son of Rayon D'Or, upon whom Day worked like a demonmanaged to keep in front, thally winning a hard race by a neck.....Turf Handicap Sweepstakes, for three year olds and upward, at $35 each, $10 forfeit, with $1.250 added, of which $250 to second, and $100 to third, a mile and a quarier, on the terf—L.
